DETAILED TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE EMPLOYMENT

PREAMBLE

The Agreement will take effect and will be countersigned by the Employer under the condition precedent that all required permits, licenses, visas, and other documents have been obtained by the Employee to be permitted to work and reside in the Netherlands. If and to the extent any permit, license, visa, or other document that is required for the Employee to be permitted to work or reside in the Netherlands is obtained at a later date than the Commencement Date of the Agreement, the Agreement will only commence as per such later date. If the Employee has not provided the Employer with all the required permits, licenses, visas, and other documents by the Start Date, the Agreement will no longer be concluded. At any time during the term set out in Point 2 of the Table, the Employee is obliged to immediately inform the Employer of the loss of any permit, license, visa, or other document which is required for the Employee to be permitted to work or reside in the Netherlands.

Upon fulfillment of the above condition(s), the Employee will perform the role set out in Point 4 of the Table for the Deel Group under the following terms and conditions:

1. Term, Duration, and Termination

1.1 The agreement has been entered into for the period set out in Point 2 of the Table, starting on the date set out in Point 1 of the Table (the Commencement Date).

1.2 The agreement is subject to the probation period set out in Point 3 of the Table.

1.3 The Agreement shall in any event, without notice being required, terminate as of the day the Employee reaches the State pension age (AOW-gerechtigde leeftijd).

1.4 The Agreement can be terminated by each of the Parties in accordance with local law requirements and the notice periods set out in Point 11 of the Table. In the case of a definite term contract, the Agreement can also be terminated by either Party before the end of the term (tussentijds opzeggen).

2. No Breach of Restrictive Covenants

2.1 The Employee confirms that the Employee will not act in breach of any restrictive covenants of any former employer or other third party in the performance of his duties under the Agreement.

2.2 The Employer does not want to improperly obtain or use the confidential information of any third parties. The Employee accordingly agrees that he shall not improperly use, disclose, or make accessible to the Employer any confidential information or trade secrets, if any, of any former employer or any other third party to whom the Employee owes an obligation of confidentiality or bring onto the premises of the Employer any unpublished documents or any property belonging to any former employer or any other third party to whom the Employee owes an obligation of confidentiality unless he has first obtained the written consent of that former employer or third party.

2.3 The Employee shall advise the Employer if, at any time during his employment, he believes that he is being asked to engage in work that will or will likely jeopardize any confidentiality or other obligations owed to any third party, so that the Employer may consider modifying the Employee's duties.

3. Position and Working Hours

3.1 The Employee shall be employed in the position set out in Point 4 of the Table and undertakes to perform all the activities that can reasonably be assigned to him by or on behalf of the Employer or the Client and which are related to the Client's business, to the best of the ability of the Employee and in doing so, shall comply with all instructions given to him by or on behalf of the Employer or the Client. The Employee and the Client shall agree on the specific tasks.

3.2 The hours of work shall be as set out in Point 9 of the Table. If more hours or work are required than envisaged under this Agreement, the Employee may be required to perform such overtime to the extent that he is able and may conscientiously be expected to do so. Given the Employee's position and responsibilities, any compensation for any overtime has already been factored into the salary, and no further compensation shall be due to the Employee.

3.3 The Employer reserves the right to change these working hours after consultation with the Employee if the interests of the business so require.

4. Place of Employment

4.1 The Employee will perform the work in and from the Netherlands. The Employee is not allowed to work outside the Netherlands without the Employer's prior written permission. If at the time of signing the Agreement, the Employee does not have a Dutch address yet, the Employee is obliged to provide the Employer with the Dutch home address where the Employee will work from before the Commencement Date of the Agreement. The Employee may be requested by the Employer or Client to visit a designated workplace upon request during the regular working hours.

5. Work Materials

5.1 Work materials will be made available to the Employee at the discretion of the Employer or Client until revocation. The Employee shall appropriately treat work materials and shall observe all instructions and regulations relating to the work materials.

5.2 The Employee shall store data, files, or applications in the Client's network or on the IT equipment as provided only with the Client's prior consent if such data, files, or applications are not related to the Client's business. The Employee must not use or copy software used by the Client for purposes that do not relate to the Client's operations, neither during employment nor after the end of employment.

6. Salary and Holiday Allowance

6.1 The Employee is entitled to the gross yearly salary as defined in Point 12 of the Table. The gross annual salary, as defined in Point 12 of the Table, includes 8% holiday allowance. The gross annual salary, inclusive of holiday allowance, is to be paid in twelve equal monthly installments with due observance of the statutory deductions. The gross monthly salary will ultimately be payable at the end of each month following the month over which this salary is earned.

6.2 The Employee acknowledges that participation in any benefit, equity, or incentive plan, or in any ownership interest offered by Client, is not automatic and would be subject to the Employer's prior review and written approval.

7. Reimbursement for Expenditure and Expenses

7.1 The Employee shall only be entitled to reimbursement for expenses incurred in the course of their employment if such expenses have been explicitly approved in writing by the Employer before being incurred.

7.2 The payment of any expenses that were not pre-approved in writing, whether made in the past or on an exceptional basis, shall not create any entitlement, precedent, or rights for the Employee to claim reimbursement for similar or other expenses in the future.

7.3 All approved expenses must be submitted with appropriate supporting documentation within 30 days of incurring the expense. Failure to do so may result in the denial of reimbursement.

8. Sickness and Disability

8.1 In the event of illness in the sense of section 7:629 DCC, including if the Employee is unable to perform the Employee's duties due to illness or incapacity for work, the Employee must report sick to the Employee's immediate superior, or the Employee's deputy, and HR as soon as possible, but before 9:00 in the morning on the first day of illness at the latest, stating the Employee's residential or nursing address. The Employee shall comply with the rules related to reporting and inspection in the case of illness, as adopted and may be changed from time to time by the Employer. The Employee is also obliged to report the illness on the Deel platform. Failure to register your sick leave correctly on the Deel platform as described in this clause may result in inaccurate salary payment, which Employer is fully entitled to correct in the following payments, and Employer is entitled to demand full repayment. Repeated errors in registration may result in disciplinary action.

8.2 The Employee is obliged to make every effort to promote the earliest possible reintegration and, in so doing, to follow the regulations included in the Employer's absenteeism regulations, which are known to the Employee and shared with them upon the signing of this Agreement.

8.3 The Employee is obliged at all times, if the Employer so requires, to cooperate fully with an examination by the company doctor or employment expert and to comply at all times with reasonable instructions from the Employer and the company doctor or employment expert.

8.4 As soon as the Employee can resume work after illness, the Employee will notify the Employer and the Client without delay.

8.5 If the Employee is unable to work due to illness or occupational disability, the Employer will comply with the mandatory illness provisions referred to in section 7:629 of the DCC and the applicable policy for payments during sick leave as determined by the Client and detailed on the Deel Platform for the Employee. If the Employee resides in the Netherlands on the basis of a work visa sponsored by the Employer, the Employer shall ensure that the Employee receives at least the minimum salary required to maintain the validity of such visa for as long as legally required. Employee is not entitled to any Variable Compensation if they are unable to work due to illness for a continued period of 1 week or longer. In case any payment is made above the statutory requirements, the Employee cannot derive any future rights out of such (over)payment.

8.6 During the period of illness, the Employee only accrues statutory holidays.

9. Contractual Reintegration Clause

9.1 If, at the moment of termination of this Agreement, the Employee is incapacitated for work on account of illness and is eligible for a benefit under the Sickness Benefits Act (Ziektewet), the Employee must strictly comply with the regulations and guidelines that have been or will be issued by or on behalf of the UWV with regard to illness and incapacity for work. Furthermore, the Employee must actively cooperate in his recovery and return to work, inter alia, by performing suitable work if he is given the opportunity to do so, making sufficient efforts to obtain suitable work, and not making any demands with regard to the work to be performed by him that impede the acceptance or obtaining of suitable work. The Employee is obliged to keep the Employer informed on a monthly basis of the activities he undertakes in this regard and to immediately notify the Employer in writing of any resumption, recovery, or termination of the benefit under the Sickness Benefits Act, stating the reasons. The obligations set out above also apply in the situation in which the Employee reports sick within four weeks after the end of the Agreement. In that case, the Employee is also obliged to inform the Employer in writing of this sick report immediately. As soon as the Employee has fully recovered, the obligations will end unless the Employee becomes occupationally disabled again within four weeks after reporting his recovery.

10. Holidays

10.1 The Employee shall be entitled to the vacation period set out in Point 10 of the Table. The Employee will receive a prorated portion thereof if this Agreement has not been in effect for a full calendar year.

10.2 Holiday days should be taken in consultation with the Employer and the Client. The Employee is required to submit all holidays - in advance - on the Deel Platform.

10.3 The statutory holidays shall be taken within a maximum of 6 months after the calendar year in which the Employee builds them up. If the Employee is entitled to any additional holidays above the statutory holidays, these shall be taken within 5 years following the calendar year in which the Employee builds them up. The holidays will lapse after the respective term as defined in this clause has passed, after which the Employee is no longer entitled to use these holidays or receive financial compensation.

11. Pension

11.1 The Employee will participate in the Employer's pension scheme of Nationale Nederlanden pursuant to the pension regulations of that scheme. The pension regulations of the pension scheme apply and will be provided to the Employee directly by the pension provider.

12. Data Protection

12.1 Data Processing

The Employer places great importance on safeguarding your personal data and adheres to applicable data protection laws. For detailed information on how we handle your personal data, please read the Employee Privacy Notice, which is available here (<https://www.deel.com/eur-privacy>). The Employee Privacy Notice outlines our practices for collecting, processing, and protecting your personal data.

13. Intellectual and Industrial Property Rights

13.1 The Employer (and ultimately the Client) shall own all rights, titles, and interests in and to all intellectual property rights of any kind whatsoever, including (but not limited to) copyrights, performing rights, database rights, patents, inventions, trademarks, trade names, domain names, registered and unregistered designs and drawings, rights to semiconductors, methods, know-how and trade secrets arising from or in relation to Employee's work that the Employee has performed during the employment contract regardless of whether these Intellectual Property Rights arise from work performed during or outside working hours, or arising within one year after the expiry of the employment contract or anywhere else including the rights to registering applications and the right to apply therefore (hereinafter all such rights together referred to as the "Intellectual Property Rights").

13.2 For that purpose and with the purpose to enable the Employer to subsequently assign all such rights to the Client, where applicable, Employee hereby irrevocably assigns - to the extent applicable in advance - to the Employer all his/her Intellectual Property Rights as defined above, which assignment the Employer hereby accepts. To the extent necessary, the Employee shall, at the Employer's first request, provide full cooperation and take any further action that the Employer deems desirable or necessary to effectuate the aforementioned assignment of the Intellectual Property Rights of the Employee to the Employer. The Employee is not permitted:

- (i) to disclose the results of Employee's work or any Intellectual Property Rights;
- (ii) to reproduce, trade, use, apply, or produce these or derivatives or iterations of these;
- (iii) to market, sell, deliver, or trade in these by other means;
- (iv) to offer or arrange to register such rights or allow another person or party to do so.

13.3 The Employee acknowledges that, where applicable:

(i) the Employee is being hired by the Employer, with subsequent assignment of Intellectual Property Rights to the Client, to create inter alia specific types of inventions, and as such, the nature of his employment with the Employer entails the use of the Employee's special knowledge for the purposes of making inventions, and that;

(ii) that the salary the Employee enjoys under the employment agreement includes a reasonable and fair compensation for the loss of income from Intellectual Property Rights, including but not limited an equitable and proportionate remuneration within the meaning of article 12 (6) of the Dutch Patent Act 1995 for not been granted the (future) patents over or the ownership of such inventions.

13.4 The Employee is obliged to inform the Employer and Client of all performances by and during or within one year after the termination of the employment contract that in the Netherlands or elsewhere may lead to the creation of any Intellectual Property Rights in the meaning of that term as expressed in clause 13.1 above.

13.5 The Employer or Client is not obliged to apply for legal protection for the rights to which it is entitled or which have been transferred as referred to above. In the event of a patent application, the Employer will, where possible, promote the Employee being named as the inventor in the patent document.

13.6 The Employee undertakes to refrain from distributing and/or reproducing the items arising from the aforementioned Intellectual Property Rights.

13.7 To the extent permissible by law, Employee waives any Intellectual Property Rights that are non-transferable, including all current and future moral rights within the meaning of Article 25 Dutch Copyright Act that they possess or will acquire in the future by virtue of performing the services referred to in this employment agreement.

14. Confidentiality

14.1 The Employee will maintain secrecy with respect to all details concerning the Employer's and the Client's business and affiliated businesses and clients of the Client where the Employee will be employed, which the Employee can be expected to realize are of a confidential nature.

14.2 Either during the term of the employment or after termination thereof, the Employee may not in any way, directly or indirectly, in any form whatsoever and in any way whatsoever, including statements on social media, make any announcement to third parties of or concerning any information about the business of the Employer and the Client and its affiliated companies, or of clients of the Employer and the Client where the Employee will be employed.

14.3 The Employee is obliged to request and obtain the Employer's and the Client's prior written permission for publications in word or writing, which may in any way affect the interests of the clients of the Client where the Employee will be employed.

14.4 The Employee may transmit any data from a data system only on the basis of instructions by the Employer or the Client and to observe, also after the end of employment, data secrecy under the Data Protection Act. The Employee has been informed that violations of the Data Protection Act can be fined.

14.5 The Employee shall not make copies of business documents and information (in whatever form) for private purposes or purposes that are not related to the employment with the Employer or the assignment with the Client.

14.6 Company property, as well as all correspondence, notes, drawings, models, computerized files, and other carriers of data, etc., relating to the business affairs, must be handed in by the Employee to the Employer or the Client immediately upon the Employer's or the Client's first request, but in any event at the end of the employment, no later than the last day of the employment.

14.7 All the above provisions also apply, without limitation, to data, documents, machines, installations, or any other items, by whatever name, of clients or other business relations of the Employer or the Client or of companies affiliated with the Employer and the Client.

14.8 The Employee's violation of the provisions of clause 14, paragraphs 1 through 7 may constitute grounds for the Employer to terminate the Agreement, whether or not on the basis of an urgent reason for instant dismissal.

15. Non-Competition

15.1 Both during the term of the Agreement and for the term set out in Point 17 of the Table after the Agreement has ended for any reason whatsoever, without the prior written consent of the Employer and the Client, the Employee is prohibited from engaging in or being involved in or having any share in any manner whatsoever, directly or indirectly, whether on its own behalf or for third parties, in any enterprise which undertakes its business in the field competing with that of the Client, nor act, in any manner whatsoever, directly or indirectly, whether on the own behalf of the Employee or for third parties, as an intermediary in relation to such activities. This includes acquiring or owning shares or depository receipts for shares, whether or not in the own name of the Employee, in any enterprise that conducts activities in a field competing with that of the Client excluding shares officially listed on a stock exchange.

16. Non-Solicitation

16.1 Both during the term of the Agreement and for the term set out in Point 18 of the Table after the Agreement for any reason whatsoever, without the prior written consent of the Employer and the Client, the Employee is prohibited from approaching clients, business relations and/or purchasers of products or services from the Client or the Client's affiliates to induce these clients, business relations and/or purchasers of products or services to purchase products and/or services from others than the Client.

16.2 Clients and relations of the Client such as set out in clause 16.1 (Non-Solicitation clause) of this Agreement shall in all events mean clients or business relations of the Client and the Client's affiliates with which the Employee has or has had (business) contact in any manner whatsoever throughout the course of, or otherwise prior to the termination of, the Agreement.

17. Recruitment

17.1 Both during the term of the Agreement for the term set out in Point 19 of the Table after the Agreement has ended for any reason whatsoever, without the prior written consent of the Employer and the Client, the Employee is prohibited from becoming engaged or involved in any manner whatsoever, directly or indirectly, whether on the own behalf of the Employee or for third parties, in actively enticing away, taking (or causing to have taken) into employment, or making use of, in any manner whatsoever, the type of work of employees or persons who are at the end of the Agreement of the Employee working with the Client or the Client's affiliates.

18. Ancillary Activities

The Employee shall not perform paid or unpaid outside work for third parties during the term of this Agreement without the prior written consent of the Employer and the Client. In principle, the Employer and the Client will grant such permission unless the Employer and the Client have an objective reason to refuse it, such as the health and safety of the Employee, the protection of confidentiality of business information, the prevention of conflicts of interest, the protection of the Employer's and Client's good name and reputation, or other objective reasons. Non-compliance with this provision may constitute grounds for the Employer to terminate the Agreement, whether or not on the basis of urgent grounds for instant dismissal.

19. Penalty Clause

If the Employee breaches any of the restrictions contained in clauses 5 and 12 up to and including 18, the Employee will forfeit to the Employer, if necessary in derogation from the provisions contained in Sections 7:650 (3), (4) and (5) DCC, a penalty in the amount of EUR 1,000 for every breach plus EUR 500 for every day or part thereof during which the breach continues. This penalty does not affect the Employer's right to claim full compensation for the loss incurred and to claim specific performance. This penalty will be due on call and without any further demand, notice of default, or judicial intervention being required. Payment of the above penalty will not release the Employee from any of the restrictions included in this Agreement.

20. Amendments

20.1 The Employer is entitled to unilaterally amend the terms and conditions of the employment as set out in this Agreement and relating regulations, including all the documents constituting a part thereof if the Employer has a substantial interest in such amendment(s) that outweighs the interests of the Employee (which may be adversely affected by such amendment(s)) in accordance with the standards of reasonableness and fairness.

20.2 Any other changes to this Agreement shall be made by and between the Parties in writing by signing an amendment or by confirmation email.

21. Substitution in Case of Nullity / Invalidity

If this Agreement contains (partly) invalid provisions, this shall not result in nullity and/or invalidity of the remaining provisions of this Agreement. The void provision, or the relevant part thereof, shall be replaced by a legally valid provision that corresponds as closely as possible to the intentions of the Parties to the void provision.

22. Working Permit

22.1 The Agreement is entered into under the condition precedent that all required permits, licenses, visas, and other documents have been obtained by or for the Employee in order to be permitted to work and reside in the Netherlands. If and to the extent any permit, license, visa, or other document which is required for the Employee to be permitted to work or reside in the Netherlands is obtained at a later date than the commencement date of the Agreement, the Agreement will only commence as per such later date. In the event that the Employee has not provided the Employer with all the required permits, licenses, visa, and other documents by the Start Date, the Agreement will no longer be concluded.

22.2 If and when any permit, license, visa, or other document that is required for the Employee to be permitted to reside in the Netherlands is revoked, withdrawn, or ceases to be of effect because of a circumstance that is unrelated to an act by the Employer or the Employer's will, as a result whereof the Employee is no longer permitted to reside or work in the Netherlands, the Agreement ends by operation of law as per the date of such revocation, withdrawal or cessation, without any notice by the Employer being required.

22.3 The Employee shall inform the Employer immediately if any permit, license, visa, or other document that is required for the Employee to be permitted to reside in the Netherlands is revoked, withdrawn, or ceases to be of effect, as a result of which the Employee is no longer permitted to reside or work in the Netherlands.

23. NO CAO

This Agreement is not subject to any collective bargaining agreement (CAO).

24. Applicable Law

24.1 This Agreement is governed by Dutch law.

24.2 All disputes arising from or in connection with this Agreement are submitted before and exclusively settled by the competent court in Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

25. Electronic signatures

Except where prohibited by law, the parties consent to use Deel's electronic signature service to execute this agreement and agree that such signatures are valid for proof and binding on the parties.

THIS AGREEMENT has been entered into on the date stated at the beginning of this Agreement and shall supersede any previously signed agreement by and between the Parties. This Agreement shall become valid and binding upon the signatures of both Parties.
